TAKE NOTICE

The Poor Man's Friend—One Dollar Saved is One Dollar Made—Great Sale of Boots and Shoes for a Short Time Only.

Notice to the public.—The San Francisco Boot and Shoe Manufacturing Company, of Sansome street, San Francisco, having by the dull times been overcrowded with goods, which were all made in their own factory, by white labor only, are taking this method of sending their agent to Carson in order to sell without reserve the entire stock, consisting of children's, misses', ladies', men's and boy's Boots and Shoes, of all descriptions, and at whatever prices they will bring, guaranteeing that no better goods were ever made or seen anywhere. The sale will commence next Monday, the 23d inst. Next to Mr. Kitzmeyer's saddler shop, opposite Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express Office.

Republicans to Your Posts!

In the midst of their enthusiasm and their ardor for the success of the main issue let not the workers in the Republican party of this county forget that a vast amount of hard work, of careful inspection and of organizing has to be done in order that victory may be assured for the entire ticket. We must be prepared to hurl an overwhelming force upon the enemy, break his lines, scatter his forces and prevent his holding a single outpost or a single prisoner. Frequent conferences should be held and no man should fail to give and take the best advice that suggests itself or is suggested. In other words, the entire effectiveness of the party should be brought to bear upon all points where any possible advantage can be gained, or any promise of a more perfect organization is promised. It is not too late for recruits; not too late to bring people to the knowledge of the truth; not too far along in the canvass to undo some of the mischief done by and in the name of Democracy and Reform. But each Republican must be actuated by a sense of duty, each must consider himself a recruiting agent, each must be willing to spend his time and his efforts for the success of the whole ticket. By these courses we can achieve such a splendid victory as paraded upon our banners in 1872, such a solid and decisive triumph as we gained in 1874.

A magnificent brass bowler has been received from Virginia City by the Mint gun squad; and it is this implement of war from whose throat will belch the thunderous tones which are to awaken the echoes and tell the Republicans of Ormsby county that the watch-words of the party will continue to be blown upon the hill-tops and in the valleys. The new gun is "parked" in the Mint yard.

THE REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS are in the County Building, up stairs. Let this be borne in mind; and whenever any Republican has any information to impart, let him repair there and impart it. Let every man make a volunteer aid of himself.

REPUBLICAN MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Addresses by Mr. Gorham and Mr. Nichols.

The most numerous and earnest gathering of the people in Carson during the present political contest occurred at the Theater last evening. The house was filled with ladies and gentlemen twenty minutes previous to the time announced for the commencement of the speaking. Probably one-third the number of the audience were ladies. The occasion was the delivery of addresses by Hon. George C. Gorham and Mr. Henry B. Nichols. Previous to the speaking the streets were made brilliant by bonfires, and music accompanied the gathering of the people. Mr. E. B. Zabriske, Chairman of the County Republican Committee, announced that the following named gentlemen had been selected as officers of the meeting: Gen. T. D. Edwards, President; Vice-Presidents, Messrs. Tuffy, Crawford, Slater, Grinage and Taborner; Secretary, Alfred Helm. These gentlemen took seats upon the stage. Mr. Edwards stated that the object of the meeting was to discuss the issues between the two great political parties now contending for the control of the government for the next four years. The history of the Democratic party is such an one as should forever preclude that party from the control of this government. When threatened with defeat they threatened secession and the destruction of this government. The Republican party in coming into power quelled this rebellion, saved the Union, and liberated four millions of slaves. From the past history of these two parties we are to judge which is to be intrusted with the control of the government. President Edwards then introduced Mr. Nichols, who said he thought it almost an imposition on the audience to occupy the time when he knew every one present was impatient to listen to Mr. Gorham. He then spoke briefly upon the bullion tax, the State Prison, the proposed Insane Asylum, and an institution for the restraint, correction and reformation of juvenile offenders. In 1863 a State Constitution was framed, which was rejected by the people. In 1864 another Constitution, our present one, was framed. Our State Government was called together in the interest of the mining corporations, and the taxing of the mines was with their consent. In 1871 an Act was passed by our Legislature deducting the cost of the reduction of ores not to exceed a specified amount, from taxation. Two hundred and eight of our mining corporations of this State do business in California. Of the first twenty-five mining companies whose stock is quoted on the Board, at the present reduced price, the stock aggregates one hundred millions of dollars. The present Bonanza kings have commenced a course of action that would invalidate the present tax on the net proceeds of the mines. Every man in the State is as much interested in the taxation of the mines as the mining companies themselves. The tax is not oppressive. The dividends paid during the last year exceeded the amount upon which taxes are paid. He opposed the calling of the proposed Constitutional Convention on account of the expense and danger attending it. There is no necessity for a larger prison than our present one. We have about our usual percentage of criminals, and that percentage is decreasing. Our prison has cost $260,000. Ninety-six thousand dollars has been expended on the walls of the proposed prison building at Reno. It will cost half a million to complete the wall and corral of the Reno building. He was opposed to further expenditure on that Reno wall, unless to fill up the hole in it and make it a lunatic asylum. It costs $150 per annum to feed, clothe and guard each prisoner at the State Prison here—or $22,000 per annum for the prisoners we now have. It would not cost more per head to take care of a lunatic than a prisoner. We should have an institution of our own for our insane. It is our solemn, bounden duty to establish a Reform School to correct, restrain and reform the hoodlum element in the youth of our State. The speaker closed by counseling every Republican to stand by their whole ticket. Do this and on election day all our mountain peaks would be emblazoned with the clear effulgence of a Republican victory. Our reporter is aware of his inability to more than faintly indicate the language of this speech, which was well received and heartily applauded.

Mr. Gorham, on being introduced said he had known the speaker who had preceded him, twenty-four years, and complimented him on his ability, and knowledge of what this State needs. The Democrats are solicitous about the Chinese question, and he proposed to instruct them. All that has been done to keep the Chinese out of our State has been accomplished by the Congressional Republican delegation from this State and California. He assured the Democrats that the Republican party is sound and square on the Chinese question. We have the right to exclude the Chinese, and he hoped it would be done. The Democrats endorse the Republican platform, but object to Republican rule. The Republican party demand freedom and equal protection for all its citizens, and is opposed to the old inferiorism of State Rights. In the light of history he proceeded to show that the Democratic party could not, and the Republican party could, be trusted with the control of this Government. The way is free from the Democratic pest-house into a wholesome atmosphere. He related the fable of the wolf and the lamb, wherein the wolf accused the lamb that was drinking at the stream below the wolf of muddying the water. The Democratic party has been the wolf since 1850. He showed the treachery of the Democratic party on the slavery question and said, "Would you let a viper sting you twice?" In 1860 the South divided the Democratic party that the Republican party might succeed, and they then drag the nation into a bloody war. They thought the Northern men sneaked and cowered; they reckoned without their host. They were schemers and plotters of treason, and are impeached as witnesses. The position of the Democrats during the war was illustrated in the most amusing and amusing manner and commented on with the keenest sarcasm, with occasional smiting as by lightning stroke. The Democratic party now profess to be opposed to everything they ever did. They cringe and fawn and sneak in power by this means. The Democratic party want to get among the chickens for the chickens' good. The chickens say, none of that for us. They deprecate the bloody shirt; why don't they keep it clean? In like manner he dealt with the "sublime theme" of Democratic economy. In the 83 investigations on charges of corruption not a single Republican official was found to have robbed the government of a dollar, and he challenged a denial of the statement. Statistics prove that of every $1,000 entrusted to Republican officials $99.74 was safe to the government; while of every $1,000 entrusted to Democratic officials only $99.98 was safe to the government—or in the general proportion and average above stated. And we will improve upon this if we can. The Democratic party stole our forts, arsenals, custom houses, and half a million of gold coin in the Sub-Treasury at New Orleans, to carry on the war. He asserted, and gave good authority for it, that Tilden was a secessionist, and the consort of ballot-box stuffers. Our candidates, Rutherford B. Hayes, was never accused of ballot box stuffing or dishonesty. He risked his life in defense of his country. Modest, gallant, without thought of applause, he did his whole duty as a man without ostentation. And he is going to be elected to hold the fort against the legions who are tramping toward the United States Treasury. Let no small local dissension deprive the United States of your vote. Your candidate for Congress is an able, worthy man, and should receive every Republican vote. The speaker expressed his confidence in a Republican victory on election day, and said that Nevada, born in the throes of the nation, can be trusted. The above, as any one who was present at the meeting and reads this will know, imperfectly indicates only a few of the points of what the reporter believes the strongest and most telling speech delivered here during any political campaign. There was seemingly no abatement of interest during the two hours occupied in its delivery.

OPHIR.—Of the move in Ophir the Stock Exchange of the 19th says:

The Ophir cinchers started in early this morning to the harvest of bear destruction. Right and left they dealt their blows, sending the stock up to 50 1/2 before the Board, making the shorts turn pale with jealous envy and impotent rage. Old Dame Rumor went charging through the crowd with all kinds of rumors. She had Archie Borland, Coll. Deane and Charley Felton broiling on the "short" gridiron, and the devil only knows how many short operators were to be deprived of their scalps in very short order. Jim Keene expected to be the leader of the Ophir pool, was very conspicuous by his absence in propria persona from the scene of operations. He hadn't been heard from as we go to press. Some of the sitting bulls of the market sat down in the pen and quietly smoked their pipes, awaiting the coming millennium. The bears generally were scared to death. The Ophir dose has been well administered, and those who squeal should remember that time makes all things level.
